

Public Conduct Policy

Adopted: 08/2006

Revised: 11/2022

Reviewed: 11/2022

The Library's mission is achieved in part by the willingness of its patrons to respect one another and coexist in library spaces. Physical and virtual library spaces are designed to be used for multiple purposes and are intended to be used by a diverse community of patrons.

The Board of Trustees of the Scott County Public Library has adopted this Public Conduct Policy. Any behavior or activity that interferes with library services will be prohibited. Persons who fail to observe the following guidelines may be asked to leave the library and library grounds. Those refusing to leave will be subject to arrest under trespass laws of the Kentucky Revised Statutes.

While not a complete list, the following behaviors will not be allowed in the library or on library grounds:

- Any behavior that endangers or could potentially endanger safety or health; including blocking aisles, exits, or entrances.
- Selling, using, or being under the influence of illegal drugs or alcohol.
- Tobacco use. This includes all e-smoking products.
- Verbally or physically harassing or threatening another person including making suggestive comments or yelling; or threatening violence against another person, including stalking, staring, lurking, gesturing, racially or ethically charged language; offensive touching, or any sexual harassment; or obscene acts such as sex acts or indecent exposure.
- Trespassing in nonpublic areas and being in the library without permission of an authorized library employee before or after library operating hours.
- Using any personal audible devices without headphones or with headphones set at a volume that disturbs others.
- Bringing into the library pets or animals, other than service animals as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).
- Vandalism, theft, or deliberate destruction or altering of library property or the personal property of other patrons or staff members.
- Using library facilities for personal grooming, bathing, shaving, shampooing, or doing laundry.
- Lying down or sleeping in the library or on library grounds.
- Eating and drinking in areas not designated for these activities.
- Inappropriate dress. Appropriate apparel, including shirts and footwear, must be worn in the library, or you may be asked to leave the premises.
- Leaving personal property unattended. Patrons are responsible for the care and safety of their own personal property, both inside and outside of the library building. SCPL is not responsible for personal items lost or damaged at the library
- Panhandling, loitering, soliciting, selling, conducting unauthorized surveys, and campaigning.
- Recreational activities such as skateboarding, roller skating, and rollerblading.
- Failure to supervise a child or adult in need of care so that he or she does not disturb other persons in the library, damage library property, or endanger their own personal safety. The Unattended Child Policy will be strictly enforced.
- Refusing to leave the library property at closing.
- Failing to comply with a reasonable request from library staff or security personnel.
- Violation of any local, state, or federal law.

Scott County Public Library reserves the right to prohibit any behavior or actions which may be inappropriate or disruptive. Failure to comply with the SCPL Public Conduct Policy may result in limited or suspended library privileges.
